SON. CHAPTER 11

ACTIVITIES

The Frontiersmen, Eric Baum, Ted Behrens, Bob Lang and Dick Pierpont, provided light-hearted entertainment at the Democratic Rally held on October 19. Prolonged cheering and clapping sounded in the gym during addresses by Representative Gertrude Cohen and Lt. Gov. Robert Fulton.

Chants of "Go, Barty, go" and "We want Barty" were heard during the Republican rally. Huge posters of Goldwater covered the walls and signs bearing "AuH<sub>2</sub>O" were plastered everywhere. The Republican brass was represented by former Lt. Gov. Wm. Mooty and Robert Case, secretary to Representative H. R. Gross..

To vote in the mock election, students had to register during the week.

C.F.H.S. St

Vigorous Democrats marched around the gym floor to show their support of LBJ and Hughes

Some Democrats stayed to clean up the gym after their successful rally—a good way to miss part of their next class.

Pep band members gave their all to provide an exciting atmosphere for the Demo rally

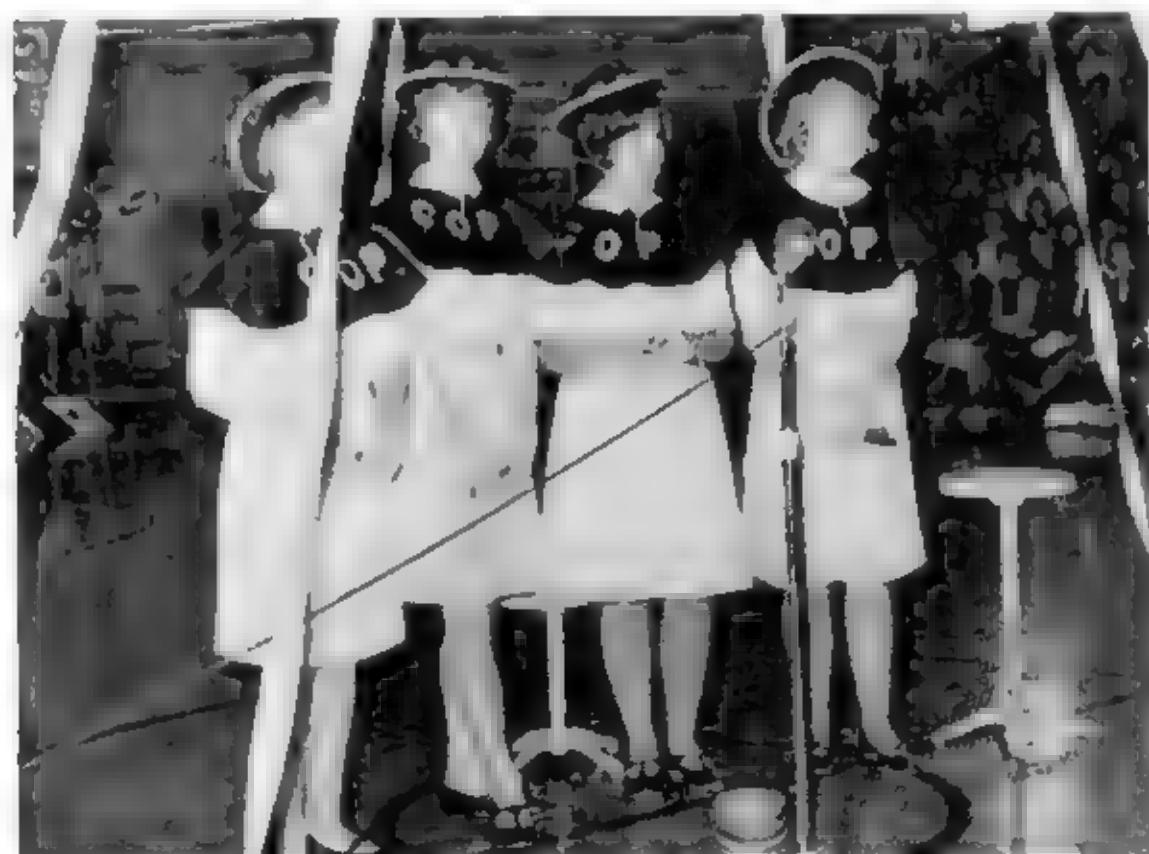

The Republican cheering section added to the noise and confusion of the rally

Republican demonstrators tell who they are for while parading around the gym floor to the accompaniment of the Republican band

Students Elected Johnson, 524-286

Becky Pierpont, Jan Dorman, Annette Appleby, and Betsy Coale blend their voices in praise of Barry Goldwater.

An active Republican, Dick Pierpont, delivered an address to attentive listeners.

The sophomores learned the ancient art of stuffing chicken wire with folded napkins.

Preparations for homecoming began weeks before the big day with the senior class challenging the junior and sophomore classes to a float building contest. Thereafter, countless hours were spent in napkin-stuffing and spray-painting.

Indoor and outdoor decorations were put up by the classes. Because homecoming was so close to Halloween, witches and ghosts appeared beneath the scoreboard.

Decorations of green and white were erected in the gym under the direction of Linda McVey.

During homecoming week, five excited queen candidates and their escorts were presented to the student body.

The bon fire, organized by John Hecklesmiller, climaxed Thursday night's activities in blazing glory

Hard Work Was the Key to

"And while the band played, the students cheered!" The pep band added zest to the bon fire festivities.

Carl Anderson shinned up the light pole in an attempt to hang the Mason City effigy.

A Successful Homecoming.

All eyes were upon Gery Deaver and his attempts to throw a rope over the light

Mission accomplished

Queenie candidate, Larry Hudson, and escort, Mick Starcevich, saunter away from former Queenie K. O. Kelting and MC Rich James during the homecoming pep assembly.

The first place winning senior float pulled by Terry Sheerer's street rod, carried the legend "Together We Triumph."

The flawless performance of the CFHS marching band started the half time activities of Homecoming 1964.

Class floats, which had been made especially for the contest, made their debut, and they drew applause and sometime laughter from the crowd

Following the homecoming candidates' cruise around the cinder track in new convertibles, Judy Clark was announced the queen for 1964. The theme of homecoming, "If You're Young at Heart", was sung to our newly crowned queen by Steve Ryan, the master of ceremonies

After the courts' last trip around the track, the Cedar Falls Tigers went on to defeat Mason City 14-13 to win our first homecoming in three years

Weeks of Preparation

Candidate Suzie Thorson gave the crowd a captivating smile during the half-time festivities.

Gery Deaver made a presentation of one dozen long-stemmed red roses to newly crowned Queen Judy Clark on behalf of the Lettermen's Club.

While the band, the homecoming court, and the crowd listened attentively, Queen Judy gave the crowd a very special thanks for the most thrilling moment of her life.

Were Climaxed by a Victorious Game.

After a victorious game, happy couples patiently waited to enter the homecoming dance.

After buying his way into Congress, the Hon. Stephen Socrates Christopher introduced a bill calling for a world government. He worked hard on the bill, and with the help of his capable secretary, Lee, he began to see the worth of doing things honestly. Because of a shady deal, he was kicked out of Congress, but he vowed to return soon; this time honestly.

Gery, Debbie, and Barb patiently waited to go on stage.

Pam and Larry were caught in one of the many happy moments in the play.

The "Antigone" set featured platforms at various levels and Grecian columns all bathed in blue light.

A Classic Tragedy Proved Successful.

The ancient Greek play, "Antigone", involved two sons and two daughters of Oedipus, the lately departed king of Thebes, and his brother-in-law, Creon, who had become the king. The two brothers had a civil war and killed each other. Creon, full of righteousness and edicts, ordained that one of the brothers be left unburied—carcass for dogs and vultures. Antigone, a sister, defied the edict, heaped earth upon the dishonored corpse, and was buried alive for punishment. This set off a chain of suicides among the people Creon loved.

Blood, Produced

"River City, River City next station stop!" was the conductor's scene

The cantankerous school board found harmony in their singing.

Sweat, and Tears the "Music Man."

The emotional climax of the musical was reached during the footbridge scene and "Till There Was You."

in the opening

Marcellus stole the show with his antics to "Sadder But Wiser."

Success was the "Music Man" featuring a small freckle-faced boy with a lisp . . . "Good Night, My Someone, Good Night" sung with love . . . "Madame Librarian," flirting, and "Trouble" . . . a boys band. It is a small Iowa town, River City, and "You gotta know the territory." It is "Till There Was You" with happiness and a moving telegram from Meredith Wilson on opening night, March 25 . . . overflow crowds and an additional fourth performance . . . four standing ovations for the cast and crew . . . the entire company marching down the aisle to the tune of "Seventy-Six Trombones." "Music Man" was 250 students, building set, rehearsing, sewing costumes, making up, singing, dancing, shouting, blood, sweat, and tears; it was the true spirit of "the show must go on."

Professor Bob Justis and Beth the Librarian Luchtenberg received an authentic "Music Man" cake at the Monday night strike party.

"Everything's coming up roses!" April 30 was the night of the Junior-Senior Prom of 1965. The theme was well exemplified by the elegant centerpieces and rose covered swing. The juniors entertained with a variety of acts before the dance. A Senior Grand March climaxed the activity of the banquet. Students enjoyed dancing and watching the teachers kick up the dust with their fancy steps.

"Charlie" Koch reminisced about the good times of his high school Junior-Senior Prom

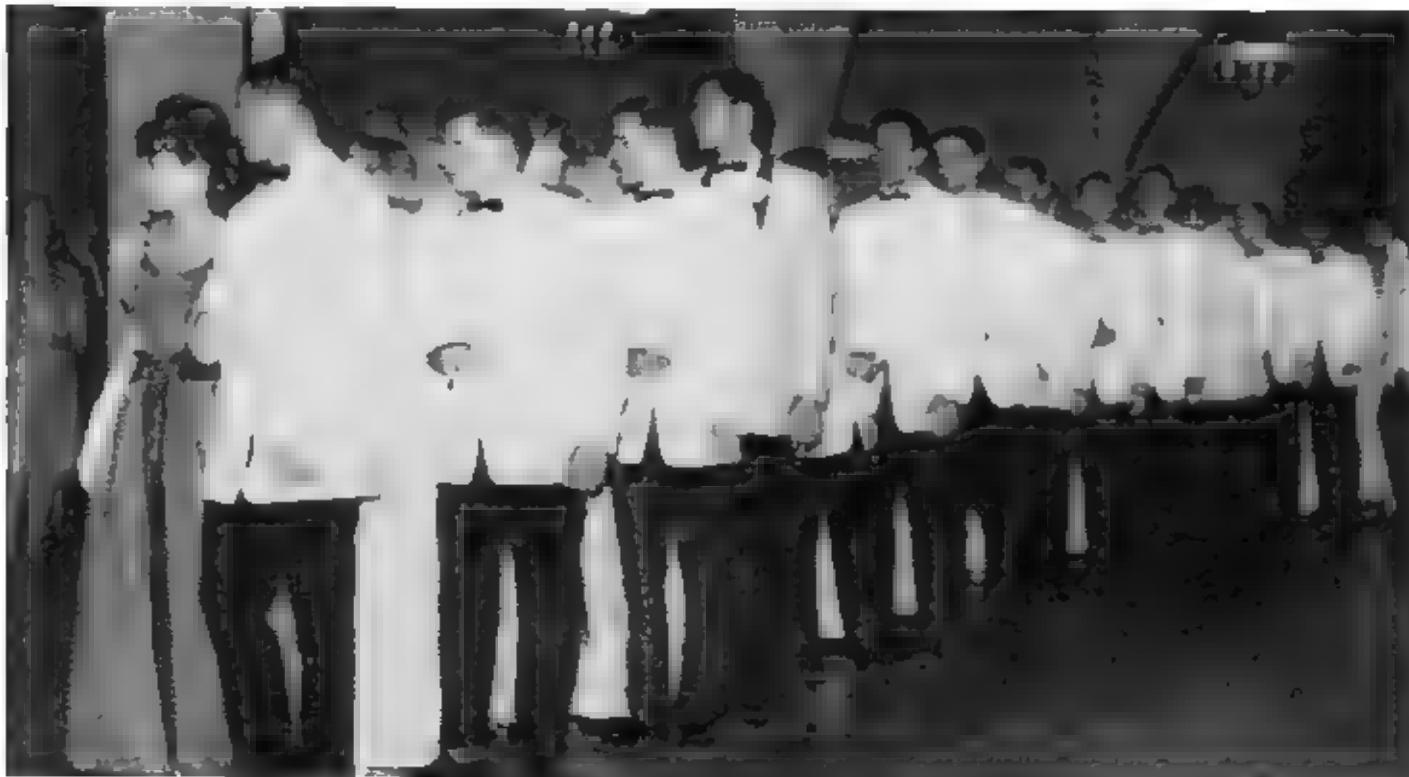

"Stomping through the tulips" provided share of the evening's entertainment

Everything Came Juniors and

The emcee, Paul Llewellyn, welcomed the seniors to their final junior-senior gathering

Senior Class President, Russ Armstrong, listed the potentials of the junior class.

The start of a tradition was observed by the seniors in the Grand March.

Doug Fink and Marsha Trepp posed in the rose covered swing for the Camera Club.

Up Roses for the Seniors on Prom Night

Girls in elegant gowns and fellows in tuxedos danced to the music of Charlie Trussel.

The Army-Navy crowd was given a sneak preview of the handsome king candidates, Jim Juhl, Rich James and Sam Runyan

Several of the rules prepared for Match 12 were as follows:

1. Girls will be expected to ask the guys for dates.
2. Girls, in keeping with the chivalrous theme of the occasion, will be expected to carry guys' books.
3. If a girl sees any guy struggling to get his coat on, she will be expected to help him with it.
4. Guys will be expected to struggle with their coats!!!
5. In keeping with the formality of this event, girls should provide their dates with corsages. (Made, preferably, of lettuce, parsley, carrot strips, radishes, etc.)
6. Guys who are really in the spirit of things will make their date wait in the living room for at least 5 or 10 minutes, because they are "not quite ready yet."

King Jim Juhl Reigned Over Sadie Hawkins Dance

Sadic Hawkins, 1965, was something new and different for the students at C.F.H.S. This year, besides the traditional Army-Navy game and the boy cheerleaders, a new twist was added, a King. A picture of the king is on page 9.

Vocal Music Entertained

The a cappella choir had a busy schedule this year. They started their performance schedule at Peet Junior High. They also performed at the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies, besides their usual appearance at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. In mid-December they were privileged to perform on KWVL TV. Practically all of the members of choir participated in the production of the "Music Man."

One of the many small groups at C.F.H.S. practiced with Mr. Evenson after school. Some of these groups participated in contests, while others performed for enjoyment.

CHORUS: Row 1: Mr. Evenson, F. Fosselman, C. Gard, V. Hansen, G. Ingram, P. Pirages, D. Paul, S. Hansen, D. Holm, L. Bradley, D. Smith, J. Uban, R. Archer, L. Seeley, J. White, D. Hummel. Row 2: J. ## Students With Several Concerts

Glee Club and Mixed Chorus made their first appearance of the year at the Christmas Concert. Mixed Chorus entered the auditorium with a candle light procession. Both music groups also performed at the Spring Concert. The Spring production of "Music Man" was also well represented by these two groups.

GLEE CLUB: Row 1: Mr. Evenson, T. Rath, J. Thacker, M. Brower, K. Barton, M. Wyant, R. Ristvedt, S. Mershon, B. Pierpont, J. Rugg, C. Petra, D. Hemmer Row 2: J. Dorman, F. Bramblett, S. Llewelyn, J. Schloman, G. Klodt. Row 4: D. Pines, B. Wildebour, G. Peterson, D. Murray, C. Nielsen, K. Fry, M. Tullis, D. Wilkinson, M. Robert, B. Hambly, K. Enloe.

Under the direction of Mr. Lund, Cedar Falls had a band the student body could be very proud of. The marching band certainly added a certain spark to the evening at home football games. The concert band also made several appearances throughout the year. They held an exchange concert with the band of Jefferson High in Cedar Rapids, an annual winter concert, an appearance at Tri-School Music Festival, and the All-City Band concert. A portion of the members also made up the pep band which played at the home basketball games.

This year the Cedar Falls High School Orchestra had a new director, Miss Brist, who prepared the group for their first performance of the year at the Christmas Concert.

Like every group, the orchestra worked for perfection and accuracy. They played for the Spring Concert and combined with the East and West Orchestras at the Tri-School Music Festival. The highlight of the year was the stage production of "Music Man." The orchestra provided the background music and the accompaniment for the chorus and the solos in the musical.

Drum Major

Pep Club and Cheerleaders

"The 1964-65 Pep Club of C.F. High backed their team and their cheerleaders with great enthusiasm. In addition to showing their support of the teams, their red blazers created a special touch of spirit, which the team appreciated on days of games. Many club members were kept busy with the making of posters which adorned our hallways through out the year. Because of the originality they so aptly used in producing the pep skits, the pep assemblies received an added boost to the student body's moral."

Kim Hansen painted a poster designed to urge our team on to victory

Loyal Pep Club girls wore their red blazers to the home games

Varsity cheerleaders, Claudia Crowell, Karen Jensen, Tone Bonney, Valerie Bandfield, Suzie Thorson, and Jackie Frink, were the backbone of the student body's spirit

Cheers such as Voice Clap, Rough and Ready, Our Team Is So Big, and Satisfied proved to be favorites of the student body when done by the enthusiastic C.F.H.S. cheerleaders.

Their willing and vigorous support of all C.F. teams, undoubtedly inspired many participants on to victory.

The cheerleaders faithfully attended away games, and when there was more than one game on a night, they split up so both teams would have someone cheering for them.

Enthusiastically Supported Our Victorious Teams

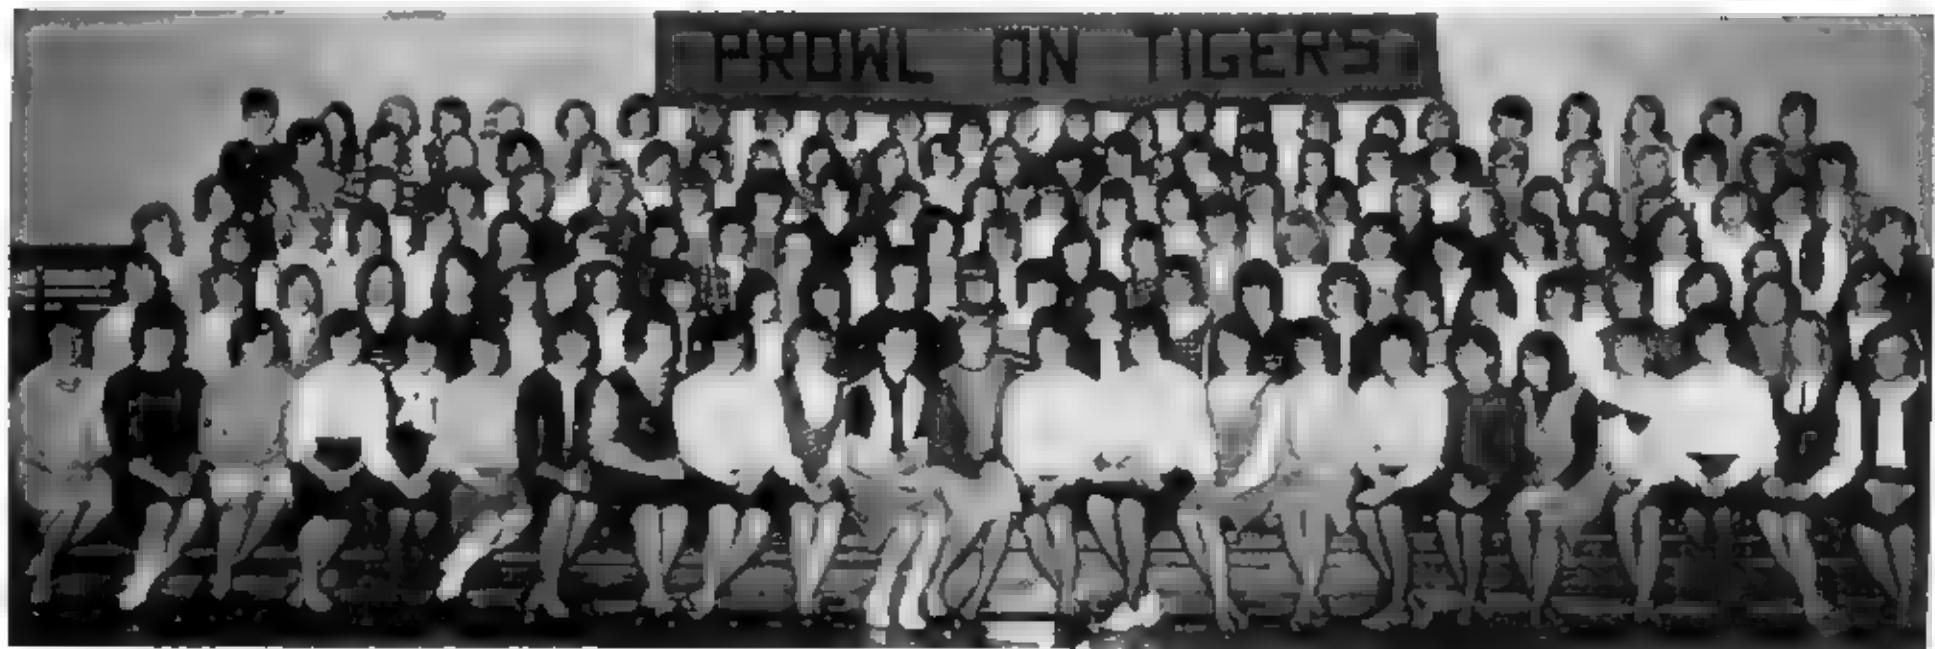

After school practices for the cheerleaders were instrumental in developing many new cheers.

Stephanie Fox, Linda Johnson, and Sue Eaton, the Sophomore Cheerleaders, helped increase the pep shown at games and assemblies.

Yelling the team on to victory proved to be a tremendous strain on the cheerleaders vocal cords

Girls Developed Athletic Abilities Through G.R.A.

The Girls Recreational Association is a state wide organization. This year, under the direction of Mrs. Koch, G.R.A. sponsored many exciting activities such as: an all night bowling party, potluck suppers before football games, and basketball intermursals that resulted in the Army-Navy game. This game is the final play-off of the winning girls basketball teams. G.R.A. had numerous playdays throughout the year which included activities in basketball, swimming, bowling, volleyball, trampoline acrobatics, and table tennis. The girls had a Mother Daughter play night which was held in the spring. The girls also helped support Sadie Hawkins Day.

A pin or a letter was awarded to girls excelling in the various activities afforded by G.R.A. Consequently much enthusiasm arose due to the increased participation in girl's athletics.

Larry Hudson, with G.R.A. escort Terry Raisch, was royally presented to the student body during Sadie Hawkins Week.

Whenever a person walked down the hall in front of the biology rooms he couldn't help but wonder what the "wonderful" scents were. These odors were from the experiments of students who showed a great amount of interest in the hows and whys of living things.

The Biology Club enabled such students to make good use of their knowledge and interest by providing them an opportunity to experiment in the various fields of interest in the area of science.

Biology and Camera Club Gave Students Experience They Could Not Get in the Classroom

The Camera Club at our school started the year off by seeing several films on the camera and its proper use. The members were provided with a dark room and other necessary equipment to develop films. They also made field trips to places that helped them better understand the operation of a camera.

An annual activity that the Camera Club members took part in was the photographing of couples at Homecoming and Prom. With thanks to the Camera Club, many people will remember these special events of the year. The club members also had the opportunity to make and sell their own film.

YEARBOOK: Row 1: S. McCrea, S. TeWalt, J. Steffa, C. Dyskow, K. Steinkamp, C. Bunker, J. Duncan. Row 2: A. Cruz, M. Henderson, C. Tarrence, P. Truesdell, M. Ruby, S. Berg, K. Ken-nison, T. Raisch, C. Members of the annual senior picture staff had a big job with almost 400 senior pictures to take care of.

The school newspaper played a vital part in reporting C.F.'s activities. Every member of the staff, from editor to reporter, was important.

Assignments were made on Monday and the deadlines were to be met by Thursday. Every Thursday the staff was busy with rewriting, typing, and layout. This year, as previously, the paper was a weekly publication of the Cedar Falls Daily Record.

In October, the Northeast Iowa Journalism Conference in Iowa City was attended by some of the editors and members.

At the end of the year the annual banquet was held so tributes to the staff could be made.

The 1965 Tiger was a year long project. The staffs rarely worked on their deadlines at the same time, but their co-operation was essential to the unity of the annual.

The different phases of the production were assigned to the editors. Under the editors were sub-editors who worked with the various staffs.

Publication Staffs Kept C.F. Students Informed

The purpose of Future Nurses was to acquaint students interested in nursing with the medical profession and related fields.

This year the club traveled to Des Moines to tour Broadlawn's Hospital. One of the club's service projects was working at the gift bar and giving passes to visitors at Satori Memorial Hospital on Tuesday evenings.

Library Club and FNA Prepared Its Members for the Future.

The membership of this organization was made up of students who worked in the library during their free periods of the day. They met many times during the year to gain information about library procedures.

Members had a chance to get acquainted at the club's social gatherings: a potluck at the beginning of the year to select officers, a Christmas tree decorating party, and the traditional spring picnic.

"Who's ahead?" was a popular question around C.F. High. This question referred to the chess games played in studyhalls, at lunch, and in the classrooms. This was the process by which the best player qualified to represent C.F. in the chess tournament against other high schools.

The Math Club, sponsored by Mr. Moehlis, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Parrish, enabled its members to compete in games which required math. They were also able to try to satisfy their inquisitive minds by slaving over the tougher math problems. They learned the proper way to use a slide rule and how to get accurate answers from it.

Distributive Education, an hour in class in which Mr. Rath gave instruction on various aspects of business and the trainee's jobs, taught students how to be successful and progress in their vocation.

The students worked on their jobs in the afternoon, from fifteen to thirty hours a week. All of the students had to belong to D.E.C.A. which is connected with the classroom instruction and on the job training.

This year D.E.C.A. sponsored such activities as selling candy to finance five or six students to the State Leadership Conference which was the goal of many of the members.

D.E.C.A. President, Vicki Gerdes, accepted a trophy for a first place award on behalf of the club

FUTURE TEACHERS: Carol Harding, Janna Alderman, Mary Beth O'Brien, Madonna Murphy, Cindy Haes, Mary Ann Lowe, Barb Burns, LaVerne Mixdorf. Seated: Sandy Berg

The purpose of Future Teachers of America is to develop an interest in the teaching profession. Through guest speakers, the group gained insight into the various branches of teaching.

The organization also sponsors a program which is called Cadet Teaching. Members of the group who show the interest, and can schedule cadet teaching into their day have the opportunity to get some first hand experience by assisting teachers at the high school, junior high or one of the elementary schools.

Student Forum Sponsored Several New Activities

The representative governmental body of Cedar Falls High was the Student Forum. Each homeroom elected their representatives and the council chose their officers in the fall. This year's Student Forum members participated in the state and district Student Council Conferences. Homecoming, which is an important social event of the year, is traditionally sponsored by this organization.

Among the projects of Student Forum were: the Toys for Tots Drive, a sophomore orientation program, a teacher appreciation day, and an appropriation of funds for buying a new flag for the school's flag pole. Student Forum was also active in promoting the Sadie Hawkins Day which was sponsored by G.R.A. An important goal to each member was to promote school loyalty and spirit. Members of this group presented the Funeral of The Trojans and Wahawks at one of the pep assemblies.

As usual, Junior Class dues proved hard to collect this year.

The Thespians Enjoyed a Busy Year

The Thespians were kept very busy this year with two three-act plays, a musical, and several one-acts. The musical, "Music Man" enlisted the help of more people than ever before used on a single production, and taught the workers the true meaning of "blood, sweat and tears." The troupe took a trip to Cedar Rapids Jefferson to see their musical "Guys and Dolls." The year ended with formal initiation and the presentation of the dog awards.

Backstage, the light crew made adjustments to the lights to give the set the proper highlights.

Gery, George, and Jud put in many long hours polishing their lines for "Gentleman from Athens."

Students Presented Checkers II to Nixon

Dick, Jane, Pam, and Mark worked hard thinking of last minute details to make radio day at KCFI run smoothly.

The reward for selling the most advertising for radio day was dinner with two of the faculty members, Mr. Kemp and Mr. Picht.

George Heine planned and worked out debate strategy with Mr. Kemp.

Steve Rapp made a final stand on the issues of the debate in his last rebuttal.

Being an election year, the Speech Club displayed an added enthusiasm in the area of politics. Many of the members were on hand to greet Richard Nixon when he visited Waterloo and presented him a small black dog named Checkers II.

The competition started with the SCI Discussions and Mason City practice debates which led to the Iowa Forensics League District and the Iowa High School Tournament. At the national Forensics League Tournament at Newton, Pam Ritter won first place in girls extemp which qualified her to compete in the national during the summer. On the state level Cedar Falls placed first in debate plus many other wins. Beth Voorhees gained the right to compete in the nationals in the area of girls extemp.

The Speech Club concluded the year with a spring party and one of their well-known initiations for new members of the National Forensics League.

Cedar Falls speech students anxiously searched the results of a speech contest's returns to see how they placed as individuals and as a team.

John Gnagy, Beth Voorhees, Pam Ritter, and Mark Hamer were the backbone of the '65 speech team. They prepared many long hours to defeat team after team in speech tournaments.

Cicero and Caesar Proved Challenging to Many JCL Students

The Junior Classical League gave the Latin pupil a friendly interest in the classics in general and made him eager to go on with them in college

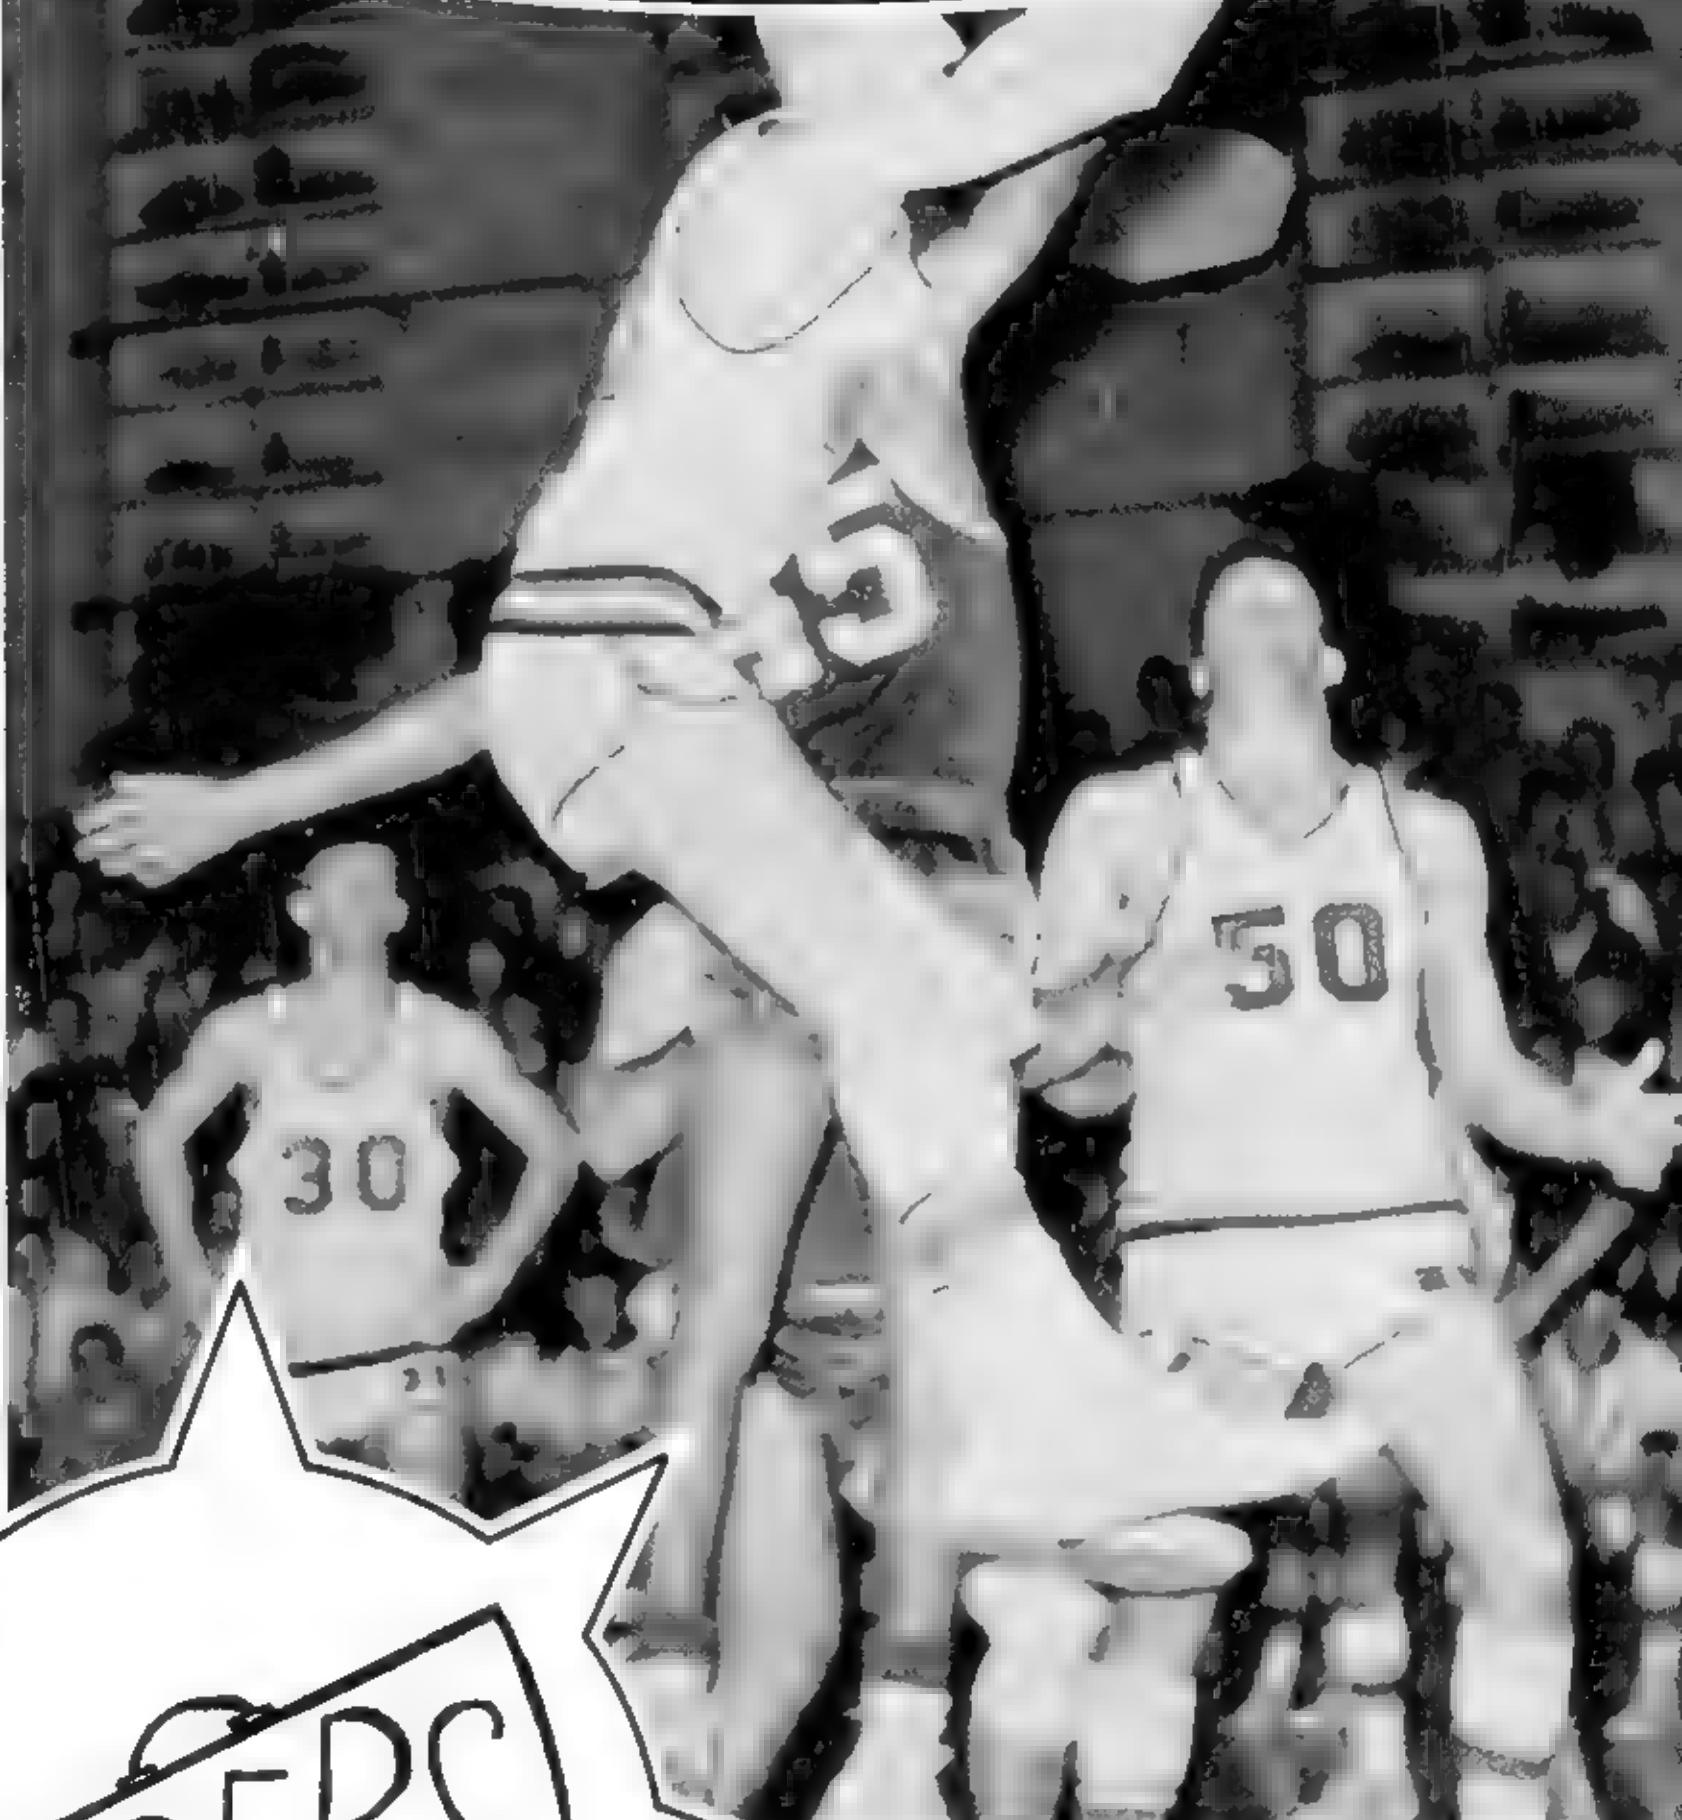

At the beginning of the year, the students helped publish the Nuntius, the state Latin magazine. In December, members observed the celebration of Saturnalis with a banquet to which the students wore authentic Roman dress. In spring, the auctioning of freshmen as slaves was followed by an initiation and a picnic.

Some of the members of the Cedar Falls Chapter of J.C.L. participated in the State Latin Convention and the National J.C.L. Convention which were held during the summer.

There Were More Lettermen Than Ever Before.

Initiates did not believe in the term "welcome wagon."

Once again C.F. Lettermen managed the football concession stand, handed out basketball programs, and swept the court floor between basketball games. However, to this they added new traditions: victory ribbons for important games and special C.F. Lettermen tie tacs.

New lettermen were initiated at one of three ceremonies during the year. A new stunt for initiates, obstacle courses, was added to the usual wagon races, running races with eggs in their mouths, and carrying damsels' books to the door of the school.

Lettermen presented their comical "Queenie" candidates.

Each home game, the Tigers abandoned their den to pursue their prey.

COACHES COMMENTS

"Our football season of 1964 proved to be one in which inexperience played an important part in the final outcome of many of our games. The season was highlighted by the team effort displayed in our wins over Columbus and Mason City and the fine showing of our squad in the game with East Waterloo."

"The Tiger wrestling team started slowly but finished strong with seven straight victories for an overall 8-4 record. Highlights were the winning of the District Championship over West Waterloo, which was a tremendous team effort after finishing third in the sectional tournament, and the sixth place finish in the state class AA Tournament.

Kim Rhoades was the first sophomore in C.F. history to win the state championship at 165 lbs., while surprisingly Curtis Cooper was the runner-up at 133 lbs. Joe Petra and Larry Hudson also qualified for the state meet, but were defeated in the first round.

The 1964 Cedar Falls cross country team completed another fine year. The Tigers were undefeated for the third consecutive year, winning all nine of their regular meets and finishing third in the State.

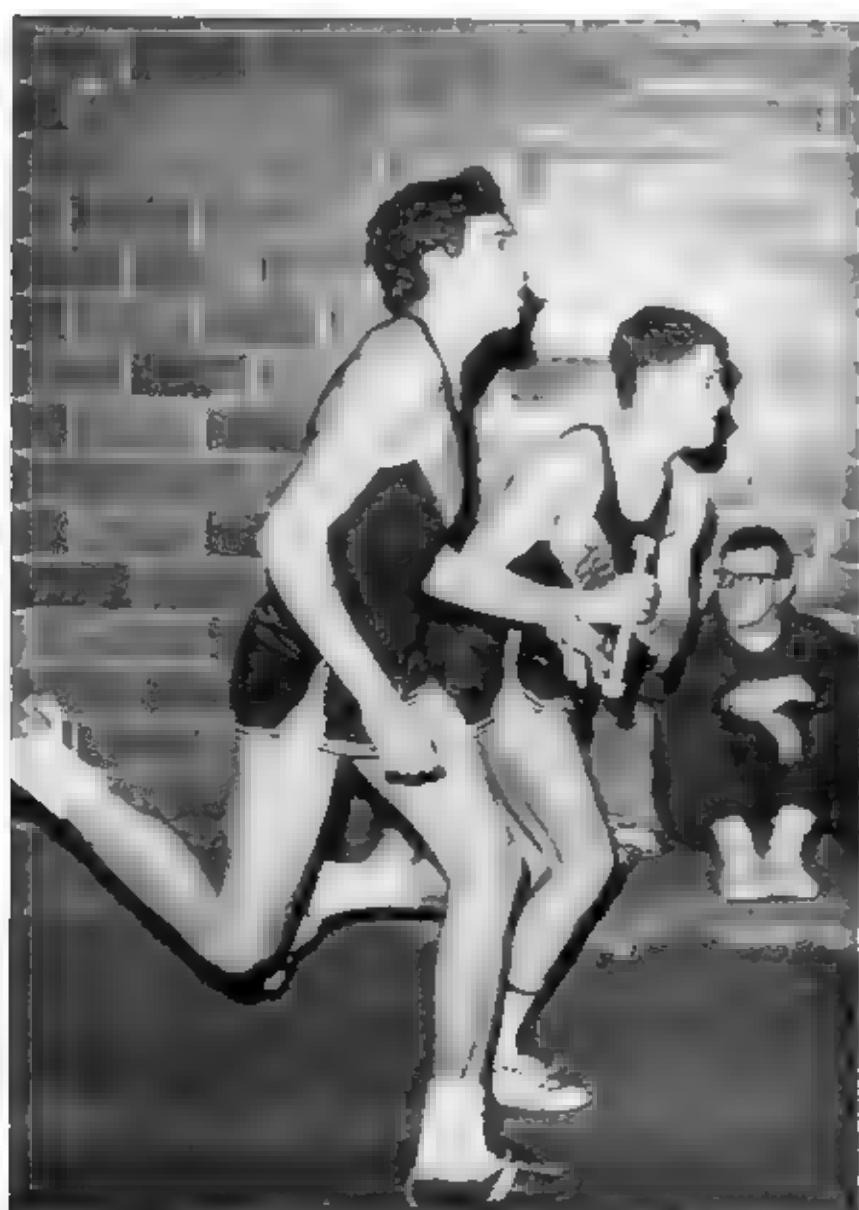

Highlights of the season were the winning of the Wartburg College Invitational Championship, and the Big 6 Conference Championship.

COACH'S COMMENTS

The 1965 track season produced some surprises and several new school records. Larry Hudson and Skip Anderson started the indoor season out with records in the pole vault and high jump respectively. Lee Mootman set a new record in the long jump, while the mile and mile medley relay teams also established new indoor records. Searle, Blake, Williams, and Harrenstein ran on the mile team, and Burns, Pierce, Pashby and Starcevich ran on the medley team.

New records were also set out doors by Skip Anderson in the high jump at 6'4", Larry Hudson 13' in the pole vault, and K. O. Kelting in the long jump 20'10 1/2".

The two high lights of the season were the winning of the Mohawk Relays and the Big 4 Meet.

Many outstanding individual performances were also recorded. The two mile relay consisting of Baab, Blake, Starcevich, and Harrenstein won at the SCI Relays. Bruns-kill and Wehmeyer were state federation champs in the discus and high hurdles respectively.

Five sophomore relay records were broken as well as the sophomore pole vault record. Prospects look bright for 1966, and Coach Collinge is looking forward to a good year.

Coach Collinge kept tab on scores at an indoor meet.

Sophs Established New Records

Skip Anderson tries for a higher jump, but it doesn't quite look like he is going to make it.

Searle was the first stage of the record breaking mile relay team.

Row 1: S. Thorson, E. Baum, D. Metcalf, R. Saltzman, G. Cagney. Row 2: J. Hecklesmiller, M. Harris, D. Perkins, L. Bradley, T. Mavis, D. Johnson. Row 3: Rick Glen, B. Jones, G. Riggert, K. Baum

Individual golfers stood out in the 1965 season

While Denny Metcalf took pains to line up his putt, Gerald Carney kept the rain out of his face. That was team work!

Team captain, Gerald Carney, was ready to wallop the ball and help the team win

Golf team captain, Gerald Carney, had the lowest score consistently for the '65 season. Denny Metcalf and Ron Saltzman came up with low scores and were loyal to the golf squad for the past 3 years. The girl's District Golf Meet was won by Suzie Thorson, who had medalist honors.

Row 1: L. Hudson, D. Michael, R. Dengler, J. Williams, M. Ehlers, J. Wagner, S. Tyler, M. Starcevich, V. Nelson, K. O. Kelting Row 2: B. Kindig, S. Smith, B. Letch, S. Watters, C. Crews, D. Robert, M. Filer, M. Murphy, B. Hansen, R. Aarnes, D. Vorlund. Row 3: D. Smith, J. Poyner, S. Anderson, M. Bird, J. Law, L. Williams, T. Buchan, D. Loy. Row 4: Coach Thompson, E. Hansen, J. Harms, Coach Dotson

On the same night he pitched a no-hitter and struck out 16 batters, Danny Micheals ran to a base

'65 Baseball Season Looks Promising

Although the 1965 baseball season hadn't begun when the final yearbook pages were sent to press, a squad picture of all '65 players was available. The candid shots are from the '64 season of the players who returned in '65.

Larry Hudson, a good man with a bat, socked another ball

Administration Established School Policy and Curriculum

C. C. STANARD, Principal

NORMAN JESPERSON, Assistant Principal, Athletic Director

SCHOOL BOARD: Standing: M. Ziesmer, Ass't. Supt., Dr. W. A. Anderson, Supt., W. Davis, J. Eaton, T. Davidson, J. Jorgensen, M. Vaughn, Bus. Mgr. and Bd. Sec. Seated: C. Iserman, W. Hansen, M. Voorhees, Bd President, and Mrs. Betty Galloway

An outstanding curriculum and personal help were the result of the people on this page

New teaching methods and aids were introduced to C.F.H.S. because these people wanted the students to have the best education available.

On behalf of the entire student body, the yearbook staff gratefully thanks the administration for their efforts.

Wieners and marshmallows were burnt over several fires and hastily devoured.

Poor Craig seemed to be in agony, or is he just trying to explain something?

Eating and talking seemed to be the most vigorous activity the girls undertook

After the boys stole the football from a few hardy girls, they were able to finish their unorthodox game of football in the sand at Robinson Crusoe Park

With mortarboards on their heads and tassels in their eyes, the seniors listened to the double quartet.

A step forward for the seniors was the Baccalaureate Service held in the gym on May 30. To the organ accompaniment by Mrs. Madsen, the seniors processed into the gym. Reverend L. C. Deaver gave the sermon entitled "Let Your Bucket Down Where You Are." He said that many complain that the opportunities seem few where they happen to be. However, they fail to recognize the opportunities that are around them. When summarizing he told the graduates that they must get involved with people with whom they live and work, helping to make a better world. The Senior Boys Double Quartet sang "Eternal Father" after the address.

Lining up 386 seniors and checking for the proper hat angle took longer than

Rev. Deaver emphatically stated that there are opportunities everywhere.

The guest speaker, L. Goebel Patton, addressed the seniors and the audience on "Education In An Age of Revolutions."

Parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, relatives, and friends came to see the seniors graduate

Baccalaureate and was only slightly shorter than the graduation ceremonies.

CHOOSE SOMETHING LIKE A STAR*

O Star (the fairest one in sight),
We grant your loftiness the right
To some obscurity of cloud—
It will not do to say of night,
Since dark is what brings out your light.
Some mystery becomes the proud.
But to be wholly taciturn
In your reserve is not allowed.
Say something to us we can learn
By heart and when alone repeat
Say something! And it says, 'I burn.'
But say with what degree of heat.
Talk Fahrenheit, talk Centigrade.
Use language we can comprehend.
Tell us what elements you blend.
It gives us strangely little aid,
But does tell something in the end.
And steadfast as Keats' Eremite,
Not even stooping from its sphere,
It asks a little of us here.
It asks of us a certain height,
So when at times the mob is swayed
To carry praise or blame too far,
We may choose something like a star
To stay our minds on and be staid.

Robert Frost

*The above poem is the song the
A Cappella choir sang.

The next time these people traveled this route, they would no longer be seniors.

With the diplomas that would soon be handed to graduating seniors on his right, Mr. Stanard presented the class.
